

Professorships at the University of Michigan by Type, Race, and Gender and Compared to the Composition of the Faculty

Distinguished Professorships:

Distinguished Professorships are conferred on full professors in recognition of distinguished achievement and reputation in the appointive field of scholarly interest as a member of the faculty of the University.

	Female		Male		Total
	Caucasian	of Color	Caucasian	of Color
Total Number	3	1	15	3	22
Percentage	13.6%	4.5%	68.2%	13.6%	100%

Composition of full professors on the faculty from whom Distinguished Professors are drawn:

Total Full Professors	205	21	995	128	1349
Percentage	15.2%	1.6%	73.8%	9.5%	100%

Endowed and College Professorships

Endowed and collegiate professorships honor outstanding, active, tenured faculty members for their contributions to their units in teaching, research and service. By their titles, the endowed professorships also recognize the donors who provide funding for their establishment. Collegiate professorships are named in honor of outstanding deceased or retired faculty members.

	Female		Male		Total
	Caucasian	of Color	Caucasian	of Color
Total Number	16	0	53	6	75
Percentage	21.3%	0.0%	70.7%	8.0%	100%

Composition of full professors on the faculty from whom Endowed and College Professors are drawn:

Total Full Professors	205	21	995	128	1349
Percentage	15.2%	1.6%	73.8%	9.5%	100%

Thurnau Professorships

Thurnau Professorships recognize tenured faculty whose contributions to undergraduate education have had demonstrable impact on the intellectual development and the lives of UM students.

	Female		Male		Total
	Caucasian	of Color	Caucasian	of Color
Total Number	5	1	9	2	17
Percentage	29.4%	5.9%	52.9%	11.8%	100%

Composition of full professors on the faculty from whom Thurnau Professors are drawn:

Total Full and Associate Professors	387	71	1366	202	2026
Percentage	19.1%	3.5%	67.4%	10.0%	100%